DESIGNED FOR REFINED TASTE

River Oaks is Houston's first master planned community. It was first envisioned in the the early 1920s when two prominent young Houstonians – Hugh Potter and Michael Hogg partnered to create a neighborhood that modeled permanence, beauty, and stability within the burgeoning city of Houston.

Today, River Oaks sits in the center of it all with landmark shopping destinations such as Highland Village, the luxury mixed-use development River Oaks District, and Texas' largest shopping center The Galleria only minutes away.
